On the occasion of Indian Constitution Day, Dr.VitthalJadhav, Head, Department of Public Administration, Kalikadevi College, ShirurKasar, District Beed, organized a lecture on "Indian Society and Constitution Culture". Indian society has consistently followed religious practices. In the name of religion, those who see themselves as selfish monks have sown the seeds of casteism in the society very strictly. By creating an artificial distinction between superior and inferior by creating four varnas, the right to life of some sections of the society was taken away. However, the constitution of Dr.BabasahebAmbedkar has given every section of the society a chance to live a better life. He made such a statement in his lecture.
